Great and Useful Invention.

No more Mortality for want of Water.

Sure wealth to Estancieros

By the Robert Apparatus.

Being notorious the immense injury occasioned by the scarcity of water during the long (secas) that afflict the camps of Buenos Ayres, I have determined to dedicate to the Estancieros an Apparatus at once simple and infallible for procuring as much water as they may require.

120 Bordaleesas per hour (it seems fabulous) is procured with my apparatus, without fear of at any time its getting out of order.

This machine is worked by one horse and in one day's work can give 1416 Bordalesas; that is to say, sufficient water for 20,000 head of cattle.

By these figures can be calculated the immense advantages gained by its use.

Another advantange is the facility of putting it together and taking it to pieces, so as to be able to transport it to any place where it may be necessary to use it, eiter for watering purposes or others.

GREAT MODIFICATION.

I have made an improvement in my Apparatus, applying a new system which reduces the necessary force two thirds, giving it at the same time more rapidity.

Those interested can see it at Calle Moreno, No. 346 (Henerrado, Paris.)

One sole inspection of the Apparatus will prove to them the superiority of it over any other. ROBERT.

SUNDAY, MARCH 6, 1864.

RUMOURS OF REVOLUTION.

The reported discovery of a quantity of arms in the Teatro Argentino, occupied by the Crudo Club, and the police investigations mentioned in the 'Nacional,' on this subject, would have caused a profound sensation in any town but Buenos Ayres. We are, however, almost acclimatised to this land of political earthquakes; and while many regard the thing as a joke, others treat with indifference or contempt any insane designs to disturb the present order of things. Nevertheless, these threatening rumours have evidently effected the money market, for paper dollars have fallen 2 per cent. in value within a week, involving probably some persons in ruin, and causing an immense injury to the whole commercial body.

Knowing the tricks resorted to by those who speculate on a rise in specie, we set this down among the dodges of such a kind; but there is a remarkable coincidence in the facts above-mentioned, and a letter published in the 'Reforma' of Montevideo (28th ult.), under date Buenos Ayres, February 24th. The latter is the more surprising, as it dates a week before we heard anything of the Teatro Argentino being converted into a Guy Fawkes deposit. We quote as follows:—

"They have begun again to hatch a revolution against the National Government. There was a meeting at Garcia's house attended by over eighty persons, including Tejedor, Mateo Martinez, Ventura Martinez, Anjel Basso, Julian Martinez, Colonel Escola, and Luis Elordi. Colonel Laureano Diaz, in a letter to Mateo Martinez, expresses the dissatisfaction of all good friends that the 'emeute' had not already broken out, as arranged on. In answer to a letter from the Justice of Peace of Chivilcoy, Tejedor ordered word to be sent him, to hold everything in readiness till the middle of March, when he would get all instructions."

"Our absent friend (H. F. Varela) was also present in a big white hat, but he said nothing the whole time."

"The Crudos are so vexed at losing the elections that some of them (Adolfo Alsina and Campos) say they must have a revolution at any cost, in March—that they cannot suffer Mitre's rule any longer. Tejedor goes so far as to say the traitors must be shot and hanged from the lamp-posts, including the President and his two Ministers, Gelly and Elizalde."

We do not give credence to any of these wholesale denunciations. The names set down as accomplices in so nefarious a plot are indeed ultra-crudo, but, little as some of them may scruple to create a row at elections, they have too much sense, and, may we hope, patriotism, to conspire for a revolution. Moreover it is absurd to suppose that the National Government, even without the letter in the 'Reforma,' should not be aware of such a conspiracy had it existed, or could not stifle the attempt in embryo, if suspicions had arisen.

That a meeting took place relative to the elections is very likely, and the above gentlemen may have been present; but it is impossible the members should talk treason openly to a mixed assembly, including the 'Reforma' correspondent. A lively imagination has magnified votes into rebels, lists into cavalry, steel-pens into swords, and walking-sticks into lamp-posts: furthermore the 'Reforma' has an intolerant hatred of the 'Tribuna' and ultra party, and possibly the letter in question was more the effect of malice than of error on the part of the writer.

LATEST FROM ROSARIO.

TERRIFIC INVASION.

Rosario has been the scene of one of the most sanguinary encounters. About half-past four o'clock on Wednesday eve the city was invaded by a horde of ruffians from the islands; these villains immediately attacked the citizens indiscriminately, and notwithstanding the formal and united protest of the foreign consuls, they refused to desist. Finding that the invaders were becoming more rapacious and bloody each moment, Her Britannic Majesty's acting consul, Joseph Tilston, Esq., immediately proceeded to the public plaza, followed by an admiring crowd of victimized Rosarinos, and then and there read the riot act, to the no small astonishment of a diversified gang of youthful Santa Fecinos. During the reading of the act, we regret to say that the talented and popular representative of her Majesty suffered the most exquisite agony, and was stung almost to dissolution by the sanguinary invaders. The Mosquitoes carried the place by storm, and when the almost exhausted citizens discovered that the much talked of riot act was ineffectual in routing them, there was a low murmur of indignation audible through the bitten crowd, which induced some of the friends of the locum tenens diplomatist to hurry him from the scene of suffering and woe. People in Buenos Ayres can form not the remotest idea of the Mosquito invasion; the houses were immediately shut up and a burning of old newspapers and weeds resorted to as the only remedy.

Since the demise of the Cocktail Club, there has been a great want of concentration of ideas noticeable, and in the recent mosquito struggle, every one seemed resolved to act on his own responsibility, and disregard the mandates of the leader. One and one alone in Rosario discovered an effectual preventative against the insidious attacks of these insignificant but tormenting enemies. Sor. Garzon, the notorious custom-house collector, finding his office made as it were the head-quarters of the invaders, covered himself with black soap suds, and thus remained impervious to the assault.

Santa Fe is becoming almost as celebrated as Buenos Ayres for its murders. Within the last two weeks 'seven murders' have been committed, 4 in the neighbourhood of Pavon, and 3 along the Carcarañá; but the police authorities here are far more active than in Buenos Ayres. Four of the assassins have been caught and tried, and will be shot next week.

Business is pretty good in Rosario, but the foreign houses are badly assorted, and many of the principal provincial merchants are obliged to go to Buenos Ayres to purchase various articles which are not to be found in Rosario.

The collector of the Custom-house, Garzon, is in very bad odour with the merchants here; and it is believed that he will be dismissed. He embargoed a large quantity of silver coin, which an English house was shipping to Buenos Ayres, and which caused a rather serious loss to the house in question. The complaints against this official are so repeated, that we doubt not the President will ultimately give him his congé.

The Rosario Deboots, Mr. Bareiro, is still in quod, and not likely soon to be liberated. He offered to pay 40 per cent. if let out and allowed to visit some person living near the Pavon, who owes him a rather large sum.

The Argentine Central Railway shows some vitality, as the engineers have received orders to commence the culverts. Mr. Wheelwright has written, per French mail, to the effect, that owing to a strike amongst the operatives, there is some delay in the iron, but that as soon possible the bars will be shipped.

All Rosario is talking about the mooted exhibition, and Mr. Peter, the energetic miller, has promised to manufacture flour from the different provincial wheats, in order that competent judges may decide on the value.

It has rained very heavily about Rosario, and many of the streets are impassable from the mud

ARGENTINE EXHIBITION.

The Ferro carril complains with great justice of the silence of the B. Ayrean press respecting this laudable national enterprise. The Rosario folk wonder that the Standard is the only paper in this city which lends its aid to Argentine industry. The fact, however, is that our colleagues are not so much to blame, their heads being entirely filled with Crudos and Cocidos! they moreover conscientiously believe that everything got up by the Ferro-carril or Standard must be bad or deceptive. This is the force of education, and when our efforts for progress come under their notice, they exclaim "Can anything good come from Nazareth?"

It is notorious of our cotton enterprise that the native papers tried "to damn it with faint praise." It would be therefore highly inconsistent on their part to advocate any project which may increase that peaceful devolopment held to be so injurious to the liberties of the Republic.

Nevertheless, as we hold contrary views on these matters, we may be permitted in good faith to urge the realization of the scheme proposed by the Ferro-carril, and hope that President Mitre's Government will sometimes take a suggestion from the anti-political journals.

The Exhibition if carried out will be the more creditable, wanting the aid of the Buenos Ayrean editors. It is gratifying to find the Governor of Santa Fe resolved on strenuously supporting the idea, as expressed in the following letter:

"I have read with great interest your project of a National Exhibition, for which I have to congratulate you. Ideas of this kind will always find a steady support in me and my Government, so far as our means will permit. You may rest assured that I will do my best to carry out your design. I should wish to see you employ all your energies in the press to foment and popularise the same, as its accomplishment must produce important results to the country at large.

NICASIO OROÑO."

MEXICO

The news from this unfortunate country do not represent the French to be as successful as they fondly flattered themselves to be about to be, at the beginning of the war. The Mexicans never face their foes in the open field, but annoy them by guerilla attacks: these flying troops destroy the roads, and lie in ambush, occasionally taking possession of some small villages, which they lay under contribution, and hold the priests as hostages.

A strong guerilla force has taken possession of San Agustin de las Cuevas, commonly called Tlapam, and the French have been unable to root them out of their position. About an hour's march from Mexico, 300 Conservatives, with a gun, passed over to the Liberals, and a French battalion had been sent in pursuit of them. From 1200 to 1500 men, under General Vicario, had deserted at Iguala, some 50 hours journey to the south of the capital. The capital punishment which the enemy puts into force against the guerillas, without mercy, has no effect on stopping daily desertions. The withdrawal of troops from various points, places the adherents of the new order of things in a ticklish position, as they must either emigrate, or run the risk of being shot by the guerillas.

By way of the Pacific we learn that the French troops after having occupied Queretaro had taken possession, without resistance, of Morelia, Salamanca, Acambaro, and Selaya. It appears that this is just what the Mexican's wish, as by the French forces being thus scattered and weakened, the patriots recover one by one, the best strategical positions between Mexico and Vera Cruz. The Mexican coasts, on the Pacific, are blockaded, and only the American line of steamers to California are allowed to call at Acapulco for coal.

In consequence of the Archduke Maximilian having refused the crown, unless he was recognised by the American Government, the re-actionists applied to Washington to know their intention, and the answer received was that they would not either recognise or tolerate it.

Warning to Intending Passengers per Steamers.

One of the native newspapers gives a most affecting account of how an intended passenger lost his passage per Pavon through his having in his possession six new shirts and two lamps. It appears that the unfortunate being held some un-Argentine ideas on the subject of clean shirts, and bought, for his private use half a dozen of these needless garments. The officers of the Resguardia could not be made to understand that one man, unless he were English or mad (terms synonymous), could possibly want a whole half dozen shirts for his private use, and argued that they must be a part of a speculation, and therefore ought to pay duty. The half-cracked native did not see it, and, as a last resource, in order to save his passage by the Pavon, offered to put on the whole six shirts one above the other. This act of martyrdom for opinions, was indignantly refused to be allowed by the officers. He then offered to pay the duty, but the officers would not receive it, as that belonged to a different section of the Executive. By this time the Pavon had sailed, and the victim to change of linen was, like Lord Ullin, left lamenting.

Our advice to our countrymen is, to take care that their boots be in a state of shatter, and that their tooth-brushes be worn down to the bone—else, at the last moment, they may find themselves in a fix about contraband goods.

MARTIN GARCIA

This fortress has been a good deal like a rocket, going up in a shower of sparks and splendour, and coming down like a stick. At one time, Martin Garcia was the talk of all. If an old honeycombed gun was placed in a horizontal position, reports were current of the almost impregnable nature of the works: if a workman was seen eating a sausage, with a piece of bread, the supplies were such that it could withstand a siege of from this time till the middle of next week: a peon, seen cutting grass, then Government intended declaring war against somebody or other, and the garrison was laying in a supply of earth clods for red-hot shotfiring.

These palmy days are past, and no one now cares a pin point about the progress of the works. No more reports are current; and, in fact, if Government were to buy up all the salamanders in the city to fire the guns with, no one, except ironmongers, would feel at all interested in the transaction.

We should like to see the pristine glory of this work of the Argentine Vaubans and Uptons revived, even at the expense of the capture of the whole of 'their own fleet,' and not, as before, of only one poor steamer belonging to themselves. The last report from that River Plate Gibraltar is, that a few days ago a Brazilian gun boat passed the 'Rock' towing a schooner full of men. It was supposed that on board of the schooner were Basilio Pinilla, Gefe Politico of the Department of Paysandu, and some of his followers.

Were it possible to extend those kilometres of railway along the Equator we could encircle the world three times with railways; and a man could go round the globe in 24 days 9 hours, at the average speed attained in England of 68 kilometres the hour, and supposing him to travel twelve hours daily.

It is calculated that the cost of these railways had been $5,760,000,000; of this sum, 2,500,000,000 belong to Great Britain, and $1,286,000,000 to the United States. It is well known that 75 per cent. of their enormous total belongs to British subjects: so that English wealth has supplied the world with the vastest system of terrestrial communication ever known—La Patrie.

* This figure should be 30, and Paraguay 30. The U. States possess the greatest extent of railways, but with relation to the size of territory, England and Belgium are best supplied.

MONTEVIDEO.

The troubles of the country, apart from those caused by factious men, are not yet over. The drought is causing frightful ravages in the neighbourhood of Montevideo. The 'Pais' says that if it do not rain within a fortnight, the state of the quintas will be most affecting. The scarcity of verdure is every day increasing, and fodder cannot be had. The viol of wrath for that unhappy country is rapidly being filled.

Besides the two small pilot-boats which we mentioned yesterday, the communication between Buenos Ayres and Montevideo is to be further facilitated by the Brazilian steamer Marquez de Olinda, which is to be placed on that station.

LATEST FROM THE INTERIOR

PEACE IN CORDOBA.

Last mail brought us intelligence of Alvarez, submission to Governor Ferreira, and the peaceable disbandment of his 1500 followers. There were, however, some minor adventurers in the districts of San Javier and San Alberto who continued the disorder, and the Pavon now brings news of their discomfiture. We read in the Eco of Cordoba that these fellows had committed several crimes and atrocities, until Colonel Endreck went in their pursuit, as we find in the following despatch:

"Villa Dolores, Feb. 22, 1864.

"This morning at sunrise I learned that the Chilian, Pedro Gutierrez, who had joined Moreno's revolt, was in V. Dolores with 16 gauchos, having entered there just two hours after I and my small division had celebrated the triumph over Alvarez. I left Punto Rosas with a few men and met the rebels at Alto de Castro about a league from Dolores, where they at once formed in line. Bringing my men to the charge, the enemy fled precipitately into a neighboring thicket, where pursuit was impossible although I succeeded in capturing 2 horses, 2 lances and 2 swords. I am informed that Moreno's band has sacked the houses of Justices Alzada and Salas in S. Pedro.

Tucuman.—On the 10th ult. was inaugurated the Column of Independence in the plaza of Tucuman, on the very spot where the head of Avellaneda was nailed by the orders of Oribe. This is one of the last acts of Governor Campo previous to his retirement from office. Although the day was, to use a phrase of Pantaguel, "beastly warm and only fit for thirteen baskets of imps (103 in the shade) there was a very good turn out. Governor Campo, the Government officials, numerous military personages, the Chief of the 8th of the line, and many of his officers; and last, but not least, crowds of ladies (but where are they not to be found except in their own houses?) assisted at the interesting ceremonial. It is needless to say that there was any amount of palavering.

San Juan.—The elections for a deputy to Congress have passed quietly, and the 'Zonda,' says that Buenos Ayres and other places might easily take an example in political matters from San Juan, where voters are not driven to the poll by intimidation. Don Santiago Cortinez has been the victor, and in his favour voted many workmen and National Guards, quite independent of their Chiefs. The Government of Señor Sarmiento has exercised no coercion whatsoever, and the liberty of the voters would have been complete had not some Comandante's advice to Cortinez exercised undue influence over their subordinates.

Mendoza.—There is nothing new from this province.

REVISTA DE BUENOS AYRES.

The tenth number of this periodical, corresponding to February, has just been published. Unlike its English sister, it is not universal in its papers, all its articles being solely upon subjects in connection with the River Plate; and on that account it will always have readers, both native and foreign. It is a moderately sized work, of about 160 pages, the type is good, but we cannot say as much for the paper, which is of a disagreeable texture, betwixt that used for wrapping up salt and sugar and the blotting paper of the old American piracies.

The first article is a short account of some of the expeditions of the naval squadron of Independence, and will be very interesting to any who cares for studying the small beginnings of a nation. The author uses a strange word with reference to Admiral Brown—at least, so it appears to Anglo-Saxon ears. Naval commanders are frequently gallant, plucky, or dashing, but we never heard them called super-human (sobre-humano).

Article No. 2, is a continuation of 'Historical Memories of the Province of Cuyo.' The same fault that is to be found in Argentine newspapers, is frightfully prevalent in most articles on matters relating to the political state of this country, and makes them painfully heavy reading, and that is, such frequent copies of worthless official documents. Fancy reading a 'History of England,' composed of a copy of all the blue-books published!

No. 3, is a short history of the 'Missions of Santiago and Ecuador.'

No. 4, is really, to foreign readers, the most interesting and useful of any. It is a note of 'Remarkable Events,' which have happened in connection with Spanish America, during the February of each year, since 1512 till 1835.

Next in order comes the 'History of the Founding of the Convent of Capuchin Nuns in Buenos Ayres.' By it, it appears that the first impulse to convent building was given by a party of Capuchin nuns, who passed through this city, on their way to Chile, and the authority to found convents was expedited by Juan Gonzalez Melganjo, Bishop of Chile.

The first body of nuns arrived here from Chile on 31st May, 1749, under the charge of Dr. Lecaroze, and were received into the chacra of the Convent of San Francisco by the ecclesiastical Cabildo, and were conducted by the clergy and people in great state to that Convent. This article is really well worth reading, and were it not for the fault, mentioned before, of sticking in long official documents which might be very easily abstracted and still serve the purpose of the author, there is nothing to complain of.

Literature—'Translations and Translators'—Is a series of remarks on that undefinable subject, the duty of translators. No two nations ever yet held the same opinions as to how far the translator should stick to the literal wording of a translation, or how far he could give the gist clothed in his own language. Far be it from us to hint that light may not spring from the land of the Plate, but we may casually mention that at this present day there is a very pretty little squabble going on amongst the literati of Great Britain, and the whole cause is a translation—viz., a translation of Herder's works.

'Recollections of Egypt,' is a short extract, from memory (his diary having been lost), of notes taken during a scamper through that land of opthalmia and sand, by Lucio V. Mansilla. Travels, by amateur authors, are, and have been, for a long time past, a drug, and for all the good that the majority of these writers can present to the world, they might as well follow the example of Sir Charles Coldstream (in 'Used Up'), who, when asked what he thought of Naples, turned to his valet and said, 'What do I think of Naples? Do you remember?'

The remaining three articles, 'Estadistica Bibliografica,' 'Riqueza Mineralogica, de la Republica Argentina,' and 'Poetry of José Joaquin Borda,' we must leave for the present, our space being already occupied; but we candidly confess that the last article is a 'facer,' and we are somewhat chary of meddling with poetry, since our few friendly remarks on rhyme in another publication.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The inauguration will positively take place to-morrow. Among the guests arrived in this city is our distinguished countryman, Mr. Consul Hutchinson, of Rosario. As the function will take up most of the day, we cannot give a full report until Wednesday morning.

It affords us great pleasure to announce that Dr. Washington Kirwan, B.A., has passed his first examination at the Faculty of Medicine. He is the son of Dr. Kirwan, Mountjoy-square, Coroner for the city of Dublin.

A communicated article signed Americus in yesterday's paper is calculated to make a false impression respecting the state of the White claim. We are happy to say, that so far from its being indefinitely put under the table, after formal recognition, the arrangement so favorably concluded, through the Hon. Mr. Kirk, after 50 years' delay, is now being put in effect, and the Bonds actually being printed.

There is a general feeling of dissatisfaction through town, caused by the accident on Thursday evening to the Northern railway locomotive. We learn that the last train from San Fernando was delayed four hours at Belgrano, owing to something going wrong. The various speculations as to the cause formed quite an amusing conversation: some said the boiler would not heat, some laid the blame on the wheels, some on the engine drivers, while a few maintained that it would be necessary to walk home, as the engine would require a week's repairing. Meantime the ladies and children were very uneasy, and when at length the train arrived, and the passengers sought their homes, some were locked out and supposed to have passed the night at the Policia.

Sr. Ximenes, of Goya, Corrientes, has called to inform us that cotton-picking has begun on his estancia (Batel.) The yield of 50,000 plants ought to be at least 400 arrobes—25 bales. We expect a small lot soon from La Paz, and learn also that the growers of Diamante purpose sending us their crop.

In yesterday's 'Tribuna' Dr. Sheridan, of Ranchos, publishes a notice relative to the law-suit of the late Mr. James Sheridan's estate. He declares that his brother's marriage was informal, said James Sheridan being a Roman Catholic, and married in the Protestant Church. In support of this it is proved that he had been educated for a R. Catholic priest. This brings the suit into a new shape, after several years of costly litigation, Dr Sheridan cautions all parties against buying stock from the agents of Mme Isabel Hughes alias Sheridan. The case is now before the court.

We regret to announce the death of D Juan Rossi, the well-known broker, of the firm Lynch and Rossi, which happened on Friday, 4th inst. His remains were yesterday conveyed to the Recoleta.

Norma will be sung to-night at Colon theatre. Mme. Briol may count on a full house, for this is her cheval-de-bataille; but we would suggest to raise the curtain at 8.30., and a new opera will soon be necessary, for a change in the repertoire.

The fusion between the rival clubs is not impossible. The victorious Pueblo has given the Libertad until to-day, to accept the honorable terms of capitulation. To-morrow we shall know the result. Three weeks yet remain before the day fixed for combat. The Legislature (Provincial) is occupied with a new law of elections, which will probably pass, after the 27th inst., like most things here, 'the day after the fair.'

Field Sports in France.

Some folks are easily amused: we have seen a small boy, whose imagination was incited by reading of the Whale Fisheries, fasten a large darning needle to a ball of twine, and amuse himself by sticking the instrument into a kitten. There must be some truth in the saying that the Child is Father to the Man, if the following be correct.

BULL-FIGHTING IN FRANCE.—The Opinion Nationale has the following paragraph:—"On Thursday last, in the park of the Trianon (Versailles), a boar hunt took place in the Spanish fashion. In hunts of this sort the animal has to be struck down chivalrously with a lance. Seventy invit tions had been sent out, exclusive of those to the members of the imperial family. The picadors (lancemen) were brought expressly from Spain for the purpose." The Paris correspondent of the Times mentions the report that the sport in question was an imitation, and a poor one it must be, of a bullfight; that the animals in question were wild cows only one of which showed fight, though the ladies did their best, by poking at them with lances, to make them angry; that her Majesty displayed more courage and presence of mind on the occasion than her companions, and that the sport did not seem to be admired, as it deserved, by the "outsiders." There is probably some exaggeration in what is said of the cost of this hunt, as a sum of 180,000f. is spoken of. Certainly first-rate picadores will not give their professional services at such a distance from home without being well paid; and the expense of bringing the animals, whether uncivilized cows or boars, from Andalusia or Estramadura is no trifle. The distinguished party who had the honour of an invitation professed to be greatly delighted; and happily no casualities of any serious kind appeared to have marred the sport. Several boar hunts have just taken place in the forest at Villers Cotterets (Aiste). Three days back the meet was at Valigny, where a herd of from 15 to 20 of these animals, weighing each from 100 to 300lbs., had been tracked. The party consisted of nine or ten sportsmen, forming in a double line. The boars being attacked by the dogs, well supported, at last broke ground, and were received in their passage by a sharp fire and seven of their number fell, one gentleman, M. Gilbert, Mayor of Puiseux, alone bringing four to the ground with four consecutive shots. Several boars which had been wounded were traced by their blood, and in the end despatched. The following morning two others were surrounded in another part of the forest and attacked. One of unusually large size rushed past a young and unexperienced sportsman, who missed with both barrels, and the boar escaped. A poor woman, engaged in picking up wood, was so frightened at the sight of the monster that she fainted. The other was killed.

A Princely Benefactor.

Up to the present time, Mr. B. L. Guinness, has expended £110,000 in restoring St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin. The total cost of the restoration, which will be wholly defrayed by Mr. Guinness, will probably amount to 150,000.—Bell-der

[illegible]

To the Editors of the 'Standard.'

Gentlemen,

In less than two months from this, the third centenary of Shakespeare will have come and gone, and, so far, I do not hear of any preparation being made among his countrymen or admirers for worthily celebrating a day that returns so seldom. Of the disposition of the foreign population to do honor to his fame and name, there can be no doubt, but the initiative properly belongs to his own countrymen, who pride themselves on being Englishmen, as distinguished from Caledonians or Hibernians. Their great countryman is the poet of all nations, as he is of all time, but while all may unite in rendering their homage at the shrine of his genius, they are the natural exponents of the general sentiment.

It cannot be that the day will be allowed to pass unnoticed and unhonored. It will be in the recollection of all how Scotchmen, in every nook and corner of the world, laid aside, for 24 hours, the staid and quiet character it is the fashion to ascribe to them, and gave themselves up to every form of pleasurable emotion, on the first centenary of their national bard. For one whole day, our practical neighbours thought of nothing but orations, banquets, the song, and the dance.

It is difficult to indicate the form the celebration may most properly assume. A public banquet, followed by the usual after-dinner orations, would commend itself to many, as being enough for the occasion, and strictly national. A ball, however, preceded by the representation of one of Shakespeare's lighter comedies, would include a wider range of sympathy and give more general satisfaction. It is well, however, there is no want of histrionic talent amongst the members of the English community, and the public merit of those who so grace the boards, when they don the buckskin, cannot be doubted.

I only mean to be suggestive, Mr. Editor, and will conclude, by urging on your readers, that the first step in the matter belongs to those who were born south of the Tweed. Let them give the admirers of Shakespeare a fitting opportunity of doing justice to his memory, and there can be no doubt but the occasion will be equally honoring to him and them.

I am, Mr. Editor,
Yours respectfully,
COSMOPOLITE.

READY-RECKONER.

To the Editors of the Standard.

Saturday, March 5, 1863.

Sirs—The letter which appears in your edition of to-day from a 'Used-up Clerk' would lead one to suppose that he had taken an active act part in preventing the sale of the previous Ready Reckoner, and was chuckling at the idea of how the compiler got sold. Further than that, he seems to belong to that body of men whom to oblige by a kindness is to make an enemy.

If a table be so easily compiled, my advice to the Used-up Clerk is either to get some of his many brother clerks to do it, or better still, do it himself, and see how he likes working for monkey's pay, more kicks than ha'pence. Experience is said to teach a certain class of men, and should the Used-up Clerk publish a table, I hope he'll publicly state how much he is out of pocket by the transaction. It may serve like Admiral Byng's execution, pour encourager cies autres.

VIRGIN CAMPS.

Pavon, March 1, 1864.

Gentlemen,

Glancing over the columns of a recent number of your most worthy journal, and observing an article signed "Rambling Shepherd," relative to the quality and state of the camp about here; and conjecturing such remarks might deter many of my countrymen from trying their fortune this side, induces me to make a few observations on the subject.

Any person residing on these camps, who would judge fairly on the remarks thrown out by "Rambling Shepherd," must come to the conclusion that he never honored these camps with his presence. As his description of the place is really laughable—the neighbours about here are unanimous in saying, the man came here in all probability not to look for virgin camps, but virgins themselves; and it being Carnival time considered he could supply himself with this scarce commodity, and with greater facility in San Nicolas or Rosario than amongst the quiet inhabitants of Pavon; after having amused himself at masked balls, tertulias, &c., returns to Buenos Ayres and commences to give some long-winded narratives about places in all probability he never saw. That camps are as high-priced here as in Buenos Ayres is a delusion, and that camp cannot be obtained is another. Any person wishing to rent land about Rosario, by taking a trip up there in the Pavon and setting to work as soon as he arrives, will certainly not be disappointed.

It would seem Rambling Shepherd's greatest disappointment was at not being able to obtain camps at his own price, as it would seem he came to Pavon [illegible] got for a song (when well sung), and not finding anything at that figure, he skedaddled with a determination that as he failed to procure camp he should have satisfaction.

And now Messrs. Editors I will ask you to inform our worthy Rambling Shepherd, if he should still require camp, and not have any objections to settle himself down about eight leagues from Rosario, at a reasonable figure, he can procure some by applying to

Your most obedient,
PAVONARD.

EXCHANGE TABLES.

To the Editors of the "Standard"

Sirs,

I wish to ask the gentlemen who are discussing about the compiling of a new "Manual de Cambios" if they have forgotten how to multiply and divide by sixteen.

PASSENGERS, PER URUGUAY

LOCAL EVENTS.

Markets.—On the 4th inst. the following entered the different plazas of this city:—Cowhides 497, sheepskins 265 doz., horsehides 87, calfskins 23, wool 3661 arrobes, horsehair 51 ar., feathers 125 ar., wheat 819 fanegas, tallow 42 arrobes, mares' grease 20 ar., peaches 7000 cuartillas, sandias 6300 do., melons 2000, quinces 10,000 do., firewood 28 cartloads.

Emigration.—On Friday evening the Mole was quite lively, owing its attraction, not to the customary used-up and semi-used-up clerks who crowd upon that Rialto, but to groups of Italians, Basques, and British (luckily, as yet, in blessed ignorance of the increasing depreciation of paper money), newly arrived from Europe, and who were keeping an unnecessarily wary eye upon the officers of the Resguardia, examining and tumbling about their 'lares et penates.' By three vessels, on that day, more than 200 emigrants arrived, and at that rate, we may expect by the end of the year a new population in these provinces of about 30,000 labourers.

A Just cry and wail from Merchants—We hear that several merchants have addressed themselves to Government praying that the Mercachifles (pedlars) should only be allowed to trade by paying a heavy license, so as to protect from the encroachments of these wandering merchants, the regular traders in town, who now run the risk of being swamped. It is well known that many of this nomadic tribe are going about the country without the necessary patent, and seriously affecting proprietors of open stores.

Rectification.—By mistake, in yesterday's paper, we mentioned that Mr. Tupper, the British Consul at Rio de Janeiro, had died. This should have been Mr Westwood, who was British Consul, but in no way connected with the Steam Packet Company.

Ecuador—Some of the Buenos Ayrean editors had better give Ecuador a wide berth, as Colonel Veintimilla has given an editor of a newspaper 300 lashes for publicly denouncing the frauds and speculations of his military worship, when sent to invade the port of Tumaco in Colombia. The Colonel was summoned before justice, but he denies the whole affair and throws the blame upon the Serjeant who received the order from him. A similar line of argument as that followed by the juvenile members of the gunroom of a British man-o'-war when called upon to repair a kettle which they had borrowed. Firstly, the kettle was not spoiled; secondly, the kettle was repaired when they returned it to its owner; and thirdly, they never had the kettle at all.

Newspapers—There are newspapers for the following gentlemen at this office:—Messrs. Augustus O'Rily, Ichabod Weston, A. M'Feazon, John J. Hamilton, William Davis, Patricio V. A. Reid, Mr. L. H. Thomas, (2)

Attempted Robbery.—A few nights ago the quinta of Estrada was visited by thieves, who went about their work very coolly, taking, in wax, the mould of a lock. A very valuable grey-hound was shot by these blackguards, and no doubt matters would have been carried farther, had not a young man been awakened by the moans of the dog, and gone into the yard. The intended robber escaped over the wall, and unfortunately a pistol ball that was sent after him missed its mark. Mirabile dictu! the police have found no traces of the robbers.

Shipwreck.—The British vessel mentioned in another place as being wrecked at the Punta de Lobos, is a British brig, name unknown, bound from Newcastle to Buenos Ayres with a cargo of iron and coal.

New Papers.—The new ladies' paper is called Flor del Aire, which seems to express a perfect female independence, united to constancy and beauty. The [illegible] Lacordaire. The statistical tables of religion are grossly incorrect, making Catholics and Protestants equal in number, they are relatively 210 and 95 millions.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUÁ & Co.
No. 103 calle de Cangallo. —
BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No. 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days, and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.
p. p. Mauá & Co.
WILLIAM LESLIE.

CONDITIONS.

1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.
2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p%] per annum which is liquidated every six months.
3rd. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.
4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.
5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

Store at Tuyú, Establishment of D Carlos Geyer.
The shearing time being now over the inventor of the Anti-Scab Specific for curing Cutaneous Diseases in Sheep, and all domestic Animals, begs to inform the Estancieros that it can never be applied to such effect as after shearing, when it not only cures the worst cases, but acts as a preservative against the disease
The simplest method is bathing the animal, whether sound or affected, in the manner prescribed by the instructions
The specific has been already found an effectual remedy for Insects [Garrapatas].
Numerous certificates may be seen, showing the high repute of the Specific throughout S. America. Its low price places it within the reach of all, 25lb. sufficing for 800 or 1000 Sheep. It contains no poisonous quality, and is sold at the above Depots.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR SCHOOL,
CALLE LARGA DE BARRACAS
Dor.—Mr. Pongerard, of the London University College.

This Establishment, which from its foundation has been patronised by the principal British families of Buenos Ayres, is an exact reproduction of an English School, where a sound commercial education combined with the acquisition of the French and Spanish languages is imparted to the pupils, and based upon the same system as in all first class European institutions of the kind.

An ever-watchful and constant supervision, and a strict maintenance of order and propriety, are a sufficient guarantee that the morals and behaviour of the pupils are carefully attended to.

The different branches taught in the English Grammar School comprise the English, French and Spanish languages, History, Geography, Arithmetic, and Bookkeeping in all its parts, Writing, and Religious Instruction.

Extra branches, such as Latin, Mathematics, German, Music and Drawing, are also taught by special masters.

The situation of the English Grammar School, in one of the most delightful Quintas of the Calle Larga of Barracas, at the very gates of the city, is one of the most healthful and picturesque of the environs of Buenos Ayres.
